

Setting Language in Motion: Family Supports and Early Intervention for Babies Who are Deaf and Hard of Hearing

Module 7 Parenting a Child Who is Deaf or Hard of Hearing

About the Author

Amy Szarkowski

Amy Szarkowski, PhD, is a clinical psychologist with the Deaf and Hard of Hearing Program at Boston Children's Hospital. She holds an academic appointment in the Department of Psychiatry at Harvard Medical School. Szarkowski's clinical work focuses on children who are deaf and hard of hearing and their families. She conducts psychological assessments with children who have a hearing loss and additional medical issues or disabilities, cochlear implant candidacy evaluations, and therapeutic services for children and families. She serves on the Gallaudet University faculty for the Deaf and Hard of Hearing Infants, Toddlers, and Families: Collaboration and Leadership Program.

Copyright © 2015 by Laurent Clerc National Deaf Education Center, Gallaudet University; and Boston Children's Hospital. All rights reserved.

The activities reported in this publication were supported by federal funding. Publication of these activities shall not imply approval or acceptance by the U.S. Department of Education of the findings, conclusions, or recommendations herein. Gallaudet University is an equal opportunity employer/educational institution, and does not discriminate on the basis of race, color, sex, national origin, religion, age, hearing status, disability, covered veteran status, marital status, personal appearance, sexual orientation, family responsibilities, matriculation, political affiliation, source of income, place of business or residence, pregnancy, childbirth, or any other unlawful basis.
